

The Fall: The Roots of Human Madness and the Dawning of a New Era; Transcending Linear Time

A Full day Workshop with Steve Taylor, based on his books
The Fall and Making Time

In the first half of the day, Steve Taylor will present a psychological and spiritual overview of human history, explaining why so much human behaviour – both individually and collectively – seems to be insane. He will suggest that for the last three centuries or so we have been in the midst of evolutionary movement which is returning us to sanity.

In the second half of the workshop, we will focus on the subject of time, looking at how the ego creates a sense of linear time. We will examine 'egoless' states of consciousness in which time seems to slow down or disappear altogether, including accident and emergency situations, drug experiences and spiritual experiences. We will use visualisation and mindfulness techniques to become more focused on the present.

Steve Taylor's book The Fall has been acclaimed as 'an astonishing work' by Colin Wilson and 'fascinating, important and highly enlightening' by Eckhart Tolle. He is also the author of the recent best-selling book Making Time: why time seems to pass at different speeds and how to control it. Steve's work has been featured on BBC1, BBC World TV, Five Live, and in the Guardian, and he teaches at the University of Manchester and Salford College.

Steve's website is: www.stevenmtaylor.com

The workshop will be held on:

Saturday 28th June 11:00am – 5:00pm

At Regents College, Regents Park, London

The cost is: £35

Cheques made payable to: Alexis Pfeiffer, 61B Ashbourne Avenue, London, NW11 0DT
For more information phone Alexis on: 0208 922 4878 or Email: alexispfeiffer@btinternet.com

Limited places - early booking recommended

✍

Name: _____

Address: _____

Phone: _____

Email: _____

No of places required: _____